

Interrupted time series analyses of the number of patients with any of four major fragility fractures during the first wave of COVID-19 epidemic in Japan

